1. INTRODUCTION

Family is a part of society and plays an important role in the formation and development of the society. In the East a family has been preserved as a sacred place from ancient times. The First President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Islam Karimov emphasized the role of family role in society as: “The family is the foundation of society. If there are not mutual respects and solid, not all members of the family do not fulfill their obligations to each other, not showing kindness with humanity, they may not live suitably and well. Most of the Uzbeks put the people close to the family, relatives and neighbors to survive safely care of not own well-being in the first place. This is the highest level of spiritual values, the human heart pearls”[1].

In fact, family- continuing of generations, values, customs and traditions, as well as the spiritual heritage of the people to pass from generation to generation factor, as well as the strength of the family as a key to the development of society. Thus, the family is an urgent improvement in learning and improving the traditions of the Uzbek people. In particular, in recent years, the world of social changes taking place in the spiritual life and it appeared in the social sciences in the world of theoretical and methodological research approaches are indicated to study the system more complex aspects of the family. At the same time, in the Uzbek families there are beautiful principles and procedures, which are worth to share all over the world. From the ancient traditions, our ancestors pay special attention to the marriage and family. Because “High spirituality - Invincible power”, most pure life and pure feelings, the first thought and imagination are formed first in the family. The nature of the children’s character and outlook of goodness and kindness, generosity and gentleness, honor and conscience of the moral criteria and approaches are perfected in a family environment [2].

2. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

In the first years of independence the role of the family in society, creation of its legal basis and positioning it were made as the most important tasks. A kind of national statehood history, taking into account the values and traditions of our people, "Family" section was submitted into Constitution. In that chapter of Constitution the family indicated as a basic unit of society and state enshrined the right to be protected. In addition, the parties to the marriage based on the voluntary consent and equal rights of parents for their children until the maintenance and education, in turn, adult, able-bodied children to care for their parent's genealogy, children, parents and civil equality before the law, regardless of the state of motherhood and childhood are protected by the government to be included. In Family Code and other laws of the Republic of Uzbekistan as well as the legal documents, established rules and procedures are stated strictly.

The Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan on the 2nd of February 1998 decided to establish "Family" Republican scientific-practical center for developing family spiritually and physically healthy, taking into account the importance of the family in the upbringing affected rich and deeply meaningful in order to preserve national traditions. Furthermore in 1998 the year was named as- "The Year of Family" and in 2012 -"The Year of Durable Family" which indicates the attention given to the family even as a state policy. Marriage - is an agreement, mutual the husband and wife both sides to formalize the terms of the agreement based on the law to conclude. Marriage as well as contains of family. It is established from Uzbek traditions and existing laws and regulations concerning the case. At the same time, it is becoming one of the most pressing issues.

However, Today the family and family relations are considered bluntly in various regions of the world, as a result "during the years 2001-2015 the percentage of discriminations around the world 50.5% in North America, South America 12%, Europe 57.4% CIS 32%, Asia 21%, Australia 43%, it shows 8% in Uzbekistan" 1. These analysis shows family and Institute of family relations and marriage traditions, and how important the reforms are being carried out in this area.

Today, the humanity witnesses changing are to the attitude to the institution of the family. In some western countries family crisis occurs, some people live in the process of far from their family. Father care, differs mother care, right thinking people realize better that eventually the fate of the people is collapsing. The intensity of the period is rapid and the essence of the family is changing with the tone of development.

However, despite the huge turn, the prices to the family of the people of our country are still high. Our people always stand proudly with the family values. They were respected with perfection of the culture of the generations in the family. In this regard, this research is dedicated to that, in the world to become one of the most pressing problems of family and marriage relations issues, the synthesis of traditions and values, their contemporary issues.

Indeed, measures are counted as important that healthy, spiritual development and Institute developed family upbringing and the involvement of the public. Thus, it is not uselessly that adopting the "Institute of family and upbringing of citizens' self-government bodies, educational institutions and measures for the further development of bilateral cooperation between the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan" On June 19, 2012 № 175.

In addition, Family is a holy place that duration of every nation, national values, ensure the development of a new generation and the spiritual and physical development of education.

In fact, the family is a social unit that one of nature's most beautiful magical, that it has a natural, biological relations and economic relations, management of housing spiritual relationship, based on kindness between couples, parents and kids. When the unique characteristics of the family are done well and duties, functions among family members it is a strong and stable family. At the same time, today, physically healthy and spiritual maturity, upbringing, community, national and universal values in order to create high revived on the basis of the ongoing large-scale reform sire the main priority measures. Thus, the implementation of the tasks set loads of great responsibility for the institute of the Family.

In fact, today, the opportunities of the children are extending with assurance to achieve the objectives of strengthening their own belief and opportunities. At the same time, it is noteworthy that the number of people who recovered their family's economic situation is also increasing day by day. This is the result of deliberate social and economic policy of the government on the basis of them. Therefore, the family is a key factor in upbringing and nurturing the most important values. Citizens of the country know that the first President Islam Karimov paid great attention to the institution of the family by the development and implementation of effective policies in this area to improve well-being and lifestyle of families in the years of independence and to strengthen spiritual and moral values.

In this way, it has a high level of value that the Uzbek people pays great attention according to their personal pleasure and enjoyment, family outrages the top of their relatives and friends, children and relatives, and runway-neighborly care, this of course, it fills the family environment with love, empathy and sincerity. The person who was cared in a high value family works in the family and society as a high morality person. Fitrat told about such feeling's the essence of the social framework, "Family and guideline family management" and wrote "Every happiness and glory of the nation, of course, depends on the internal discipline and harmony of the nation. Peace and harmony are based on the discipline of the families of the nation. Where there are relied on a strong discipline on the occasion of the family, the country and the nation will be stronger and regular". Obviously that issues of family discipline make its legal duties. At the same time, the most important factor, each member of the families must desire to become a kind of internal culture of discipline, along with a sense of duty and responsibility, determining his place in family environment, beginning to respect knowledge, taking into account the economic opportunity of the family before deciding.

3. CONCLUSION

In conclusion, we can say that the family is considered the most ancient and important institutions of society. Reproductive function is made in the family. Furthermore, the socialization of the person begins in the family. In addition, respecting the national customs, traditions and family life and learning them occur in the family. Due to these and other important aspects, the family is the foundation of society. So, where the family institution is strong in any society there also taking into account great importance often siring social stability, learning the subject points important aspects both theoretical and practical research of it.
